ENLIVENING MODERN LIVES TAKE ME TO THE WRIVER

Always timeless, always true—Every piece comes with a story at Wriver's brand new store in Delhi, presented by Alsorg

Our ever-growing curiosity and quest for all things 'trending' has inspired furniture stores to take a good look at how they present their offerings. The inclination to offer something out of the box has prompted some fascinating ideas and collaborations that are a cut above the rest. Clean aesthetics and the desire to create furniture fit for a contemporary setting led to the inception of Wriver—a luxury furniture brand by Alsorg. Cosmopolitan elegance for a modern lifestyle is what defines true luxury. Living up to its two decade old legacy, Wriver's flagship store in DLF Grand Mall, Gurugram aims to craft detail oriented pieces made by colluding with some of the brightest minds in the design industry. >>

FROM TOP From smart technology to material craftsmanship, a rare synergy encompasses Wriver's brand new store in Delhi; A floaty combination of a lounge chair and a footstool, Piegatto offers a slender yet comfortable seating solution

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP Part of the living-dining zone, the marble topped dining table and the upholstered chairs are tucked in a cosy area with a mirrored console set against a patterned wallpaper; Founders and Principal Designers Amit Maitra and Kallol Baroi, the A and K of AK Enterprises Pvt Ltd.; The homeowners wanted a modern home accentuated with details and a warm vibe; A grandeur of scale and material sophistication envelops one of the bathrooms

LUXE HAVEN

A mix of lively patterns, bold colours and sophisticated materials make this Kolkata home by AK Enterprises Pvt Ltd. anything but conventional

Just like an artist identifies its muse and frames it within their piece of art, a designer anchors the context of a home and outlines a conceptual planning around it. When Founder and Principal Designers of AK Enterprises Pvt Ltd. Amit Maitra and Kallol Baroi were first approached to design this Kolkata home, they were struck by the immense potential of the 3,000 sq ft blank canvas. Designing a home for three generations who wanted to live like a joint family yet respect each other's privacy, they concocted a soft and subtle ambience throughout the space. Following a Neoclassical theme, the simplicity of geometric forms has been captured flawlessly. Upon entering, a dark walnut hued double leaf door with groove lines and a lobby finished in Statuario Italian marble suggests the inception of an elegantly designed home. The dual apartments are connected through a corridor embellished with a unicoloured grey tone Silver River Italian flooring amidst white statuario marble inlays. In the south facing left wing, the bay windows abutting the spacious living lounge is flanked by two zones—the master bedroom and the den opposite to each other. Their entries are entirely camouflaged with clean panelled walls in contrasting shades. What further redefines this area is the mix of soft and bright pastel colour tones used in the furniture arrangement and blown glass chandelier. Traversing the northern end, a casual sit out lobby, worship area and three bedrooms flank the home. Keeping in mind the aspiring maturity yet the playfulness of a child, the kid's bedroom houses cosy nooks and fun components with happy shades of blue and yellow. The son's bedroom and the guest room are furnished in muted brown and beige pastel tones, continuing with the central theme of contemporary ambience. Subtle yet strong forms and minimalist material application defines this project. Attention to detail, functionality and materiality responding to the homeowner's way of life without overcomplicating design has always been a way for AK Enterprises Pvt Ltd. rather than just a trend! Instagram: @akgroup_org

DECOR BUZZ

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP Wriver's approach to furniture design fosters innovation and approachable design collections derived from varied sensibilities; Pointed tentacle like tri-legged base of the Punto side tables gives it an edge above the rest; The stone block of the Cleave Tread 300 side table acts as an anchor, while the riveted metal sheets fasten to the table top; Aero chair's combination of curved seat and metal backrest fixed on the tapered wooden legs create an aerodynamic silhouette; Conceptualised as the fenestration of an architectural structure, the Fenestra sideboard is made from oxidised metal modules

From pioneering modernist vision to bold contemporary designs, they offer a stimulating experience of chairs, tables, cabinets, sofas, beds, shelves and trolleys, among many others. Co-founder and spokesperson Sajal Lamba understands the need for consistent design expectations with the flexibility of ample options. "Our store is a testament to our consistency, transparency and expertise that have enabled us to bring to the table newfound energy and unique creative expression that has little precedence in the industry. Each piece on display is an experience in itself and promises to inspire modern living," he remarks. With a zest to constantly improve and evolve, we admire how Wriver accommodates trends and changing demands through expert inputs, which can be witnessed in all their collections—on this evidence, we're sure a visit to their store is something you should plan soon! ◆ Kashish Kaushal
